2010-12 Polaris Ranger Crew® 800 and Ranger 6x6®

ProCharger: First-to-Market with Air-to-Air Intercooled Supercharger Solution

Realizing the all-around versatility of this new generation of side-by-side UTVs, ProCharger is proud to introduce an all-new supercharger application designed specifically for these work hard, play hard UTVs.

Utilizing the world's most compact, self-contained gear driven supercharger, the ProCharger A-1, the 800 EFI Ranger supercharger kit also feature a highly-effective air-to-air intercooler. Combined with the highly-efficient supercharger, the intercooler helps to provide the engine with the industry's coolest charge air temperatures and largest power gains in the industry.

Running 6 - 8 psi of intercooled boost and high-quality pump gas, 800 EFI Ranger owners can expect to gain 40 - 50% more power without sacrificing everyday functionality or weekend fun.

Note: For military applications, an intercooled ProCharger supercharger system produces the lowest heat signature of any forced induction or high-performance option currently available.

- ProCharger patented and proven, self-contained supercharger technology - no need for external oil lines, pump or reservoir
- Highly-effective air-to-air intercooler helps to provide the engine with the coolest possible charge air temperatures. Cooler air = more power and greater engine longevity
- Supercharger systems provide outstanding "altitude compensation" for vehicles operated in a wide range of elevations and conditions
- Intercooler location does NOT affect dump bed functionality
- OEM quality and outstanding installed appearance
- Designed, manufactured and serviced in the USA
